Arriving from Toulouse or Carcassonne:

Once you're in MONTOLIEU:

Follow the one-way system. You'll pass the newsagents (on your left) then the church (on your right), then a memorial sculpture (just after the church on your right) and "Vival", the local grocery shop (right). At the top of the village, passing the "Musée" on your right, leave the main road (the D629 which turns sharp left to cross the bridge that leads to Saissac) to continue straight on, on the D8 signed for ST DENIS.

You'll pass houses on either side and the road is very narrow. The last house on your right is cream with white shutters and there's a big chestnut tree on your left. You now pass through the old village ramparts.

You're nearly there!

Rather than go up the hill, stay on the flat!

I'll write that again because so many people go scooting up the hill and get lost:

Stay on the flat!

If you've gone past the car park which would be on your right, you've just missed the turn!

Only 3 metres after the ramparts there's a grass track on your right, then 3 or 4 metres after that a small tarmac road on your right when there are three large rubbish bins. Turn right onto this little road (see photo) which has a no parking and cul-de-sac signs on the right-hand side. On your left, you run alongside the stone wall that supports the car park above.

Just keep going down to the bottom of the track and you'll find the Peace Factory!

The main entrance to the building is in the courtyard where you can turn round before parking on the garden side of the road to leave the courtyard free for other cars that need to turn. Please respect these parking instructions to avoid being asked to move your car so that someone else can get to the trailer, the garage, turn their car around...

Welcome!

The factory entrance is the small door within the very big white wooden doors. I'll probably be somewhere on the 1st floor, so please come on up using the stairs which are on your left as you walk in.

If despite these instructions, you don't find us, so that we can guide you here please call on 04 68 24 81 81. There's a phone box on the main village square as your mobile phone, if you've got one, might not always work perfectly here because of the hilly rural setting!
